

Player Piano Player

Copyright A Bear & His Music / Dave Hebert (BMI) 1975-2024.

---

Well, he's a player piano player
And indisputably he's one of a kind
It's very easy to see
Although he may disagree
That his celebrity days are behind

But he's a player piano player
And pumpin' pedals his peculiar delight
Go on and sing right along
If you remember the song
But let the master make the music tonight

(Bridge)

Now, some will say he's mystic, anachronistic
A throwback to the nickel arcade
But in those aging fingers
Nostalgia lingers
And never have you savored such a sweet serenade

(Interlude)

Well, he's a player piano player
And every night he does the eighty and eight
He'll entertain for a fee
A five'll get him till three
Rehearsing all the old familiar refrains

But he's a player piano player
And though his repertoire is pitifully droll
Go on and make a request
And he will give it his best
Just as soon as he can find the roll !