

You Are the Song

Copyright A Bear & His Music / Dave Hebert (BMI) 1990-2024.

I wonder if I had my choice
If I could still or raise my voice
Would I have chosen to rejoice about You

And if the song I'd choose to sing
Would be a worthy gift to bring
You have the aura of a king about You

[Bridge]

You are the song that I sing today
But you want me to sing anyway
And as I sing I can hear you say
"You give me joy when you pray that way"

And when my voice can no longer sing
Or if my song should fail my king
Even the stones themselves would sing about you

[Sax Interlude]

(Repeat)

Even the stones themselves would sing about you
Even the stones themselves would sing about you
